

LAST CHAPTER TO THE LABORS OF CONGRESS

At 4:30 Monday Afternoon the Long Session Came to An End

CLOSE OF THE SESSION MARKED BY HARMONY

Senate Yielded on the General Deficiency Bill and "State Claims" Were Stricken—Only a Few Members Present When Session Came to a Close.

Washington, August 26.—(Special.)—The session of the Sixty-second congress, which opened on Monday morning, August 20, at 10 o'clock, and continued until 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, was marked by a return of harmony. Senator La Follette, demanding action on the Penrose campaign fund resolution, found all opposition smoothed away in front of him, and the resolution passed almost without discussion.

Senators Chamberlain, Martin, Swanson and Culberson, after fighting bitterly for the payment of the "state claims," embodied in the general deficiency bill, yielded to the urgings of their colleagues and permitted the senate to yield to the demands of the house, and strike these claims from the bill. In return for this concession, however, they received the promise of support next winter, when the claims again will be pressed for payment.

With these old claims, amounting in all to $600,000, went the "extra months" pay for congressional employees which the senate demanded and the house refused to give.

Taft Signs Last Measures.

In the last half hour of the session while President Taft waited in his special room to sign the measures of the dying congress, an attempt was made to rush through a special resolution giving the employees the "extra month," but the house again blocked it. The president signed the general deficiency bill at 4:10 o'clock, making certain the payment of the $1,800,000 for the Gettysburg memorial extension next year, the $500,000 for extension of customs work and scores of other important payments that hinged on the passage of the bill.

The session "just fizzled" out in the senate, to use the words of one observer. A comparative handful of members occupied their seats, and a call for a quorum in either the house or senate would have forced a return of the embarrassing situation of last week.

A wild outburst of applause greeted Speaker Clark's announcement of adjournment as his gavel fell in the house. The floor immediately became an animated scene, members bidding each other goodby and shaking hands. Old-time political foes buried all differences, and all feuds apparently were forgotten in the general leave-taking.

Further animation and color was left to the scene when the women flocked down from the galleries to join husbands and fathers on the floor. The corridors were crowded with tired but happy members and their families and friends, and Speaker Clark's room was crowded with friends and admirers.

Speaker Clark to House.

Just before he announced the adjournment, Speaker Clark addressed the house.

"As the hour of adjournment approaches," he said, "the speaker desires to congratulate the house on."

MAIL ON SUNDAY THING OF PAST

Drastic Provision in the Postal Bill Just Passed by Congress.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, August 26.—(Special.)—If you have been accustomed to going to the postoffice on Sunday and getting your mail, or looking for it at your hotel, take notice:

"Hereafter postoffices of the first and second class shall not be open Sundays for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but this provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special delivery mail."

That is the language of the postoffice appropriation bill which has just passed congress. Unless you have a box at the postoffice, this will mean no more Sunday mail, excepting, of course, those letters having a special delivery stamp attached.

Sunday papers sent by mail will not be delivered until Monday morning.

This drastic provision seems to have escaped notice in both houses until it was finally enacted into law. Now there is a great hurry to find a way to evade this provision.

It was said tonight by postoffice officials that this provision was not recommended by Mr. Hitchcock, the postmaster general, but was put on the bill in the house and its full effect overlooked in the senate.

The idea of the provision was to relieve postal clerks of Sunday work for compensatory time for such clerks as may be needed on Sunday, and the department has found this arrangement very satisfactory.

Mr. Hitchcock never took stock in the idea of suspending Sunday work altogether, as he has considered it manifestly necessary to keep mail moving in the country, which necessitates dispatching of trains, storing and making connections so that the flow of mail en route would not be delayed.

Those who have postoffice boxes may call at the postoffice on Sunday and get the mail placed in their boxes up to Saturday at midnight, but there will be no assortment of mail after midnight Saturday, this hour until Monday morning, so that boxes, window delivery and letter carrier routes will not handle Sunday mail at all.

Appeals have already reached the postoffice department to make exceptions for the boxes, but as this implies assortment of Sunday mail, it will not be considered.

Two serious aspects of the tangle commented on by postoffice officials tonight are the clogging up of Sunday newspaper delivery throughout the country and the holding up of important mail for government departments.

Not even the president of the United States can receive a letter on Sunday unless it has a special delivery stamp on it.

THREE PROBLEMS FACE CONVENTION

Work Cut Out for the Delegates at Macon Meeting.

Gilmer County Contest, Three-Cornered Fight for Commissioner of Agriculture and Court of Appeals Race to Be Decided.

When the state democratic convention meets in Macon tomorrow, several problems of interest will confront it; in fact, there are just three problems which will lift it above the plane of the ordinary political ratification meeting and make it something more than a perfunctory gathering.

First, there is the Broyles-Pottle situation over the state court of appeals, with the two candidates tied, each having 181 convention votes.

Next, there is the contest for commissioner of agriculture, with three candidates, none of whom has a majority of the convention votes.

And, in the third place, there is the "old reliable" Gilmer county contest which has been going before state conventions for several years past.

There is enough in these to keep up considerable interest in the gathering, not to speak of the selection of a new state executive committee with its chairman, the adoption of a state platform and the important work of Wilson, national democratic candidate for president.

Commissioner of Agriculture.

The court of appeals contest is dealt with elsewhere. It is one of the most unique situations that ever confronted a state convention, and it will keep up a lively interest until it is settled.

The race for commissioner of agriculture presents a somewhat different picture. J. J. Brown, of Elbert, leads, with 148 convention votes; J. D. Price, of Oconee, is second, with 128 votes, while A. O. Blacklock, of Fayette, has 92, and every man of them is going into the convention determined to push his strength to the utmost. At least that is the hope that comes out of the corridors.

In the matter of popular vote the race stood as follows: Brown 62,812; Price 54,556; Blacklock 47,853. Whether this will figure in the settlement of the contest, which was run on the county unit basis, is a question the convention will have to determine. The belief seems most general, however, that the nominee will be chosen from among the three candidates.

Gilmer County Again.

Gilmer county will figure in the convention again, this time as the result of a red-hot judgeship fight in the Blue Ridge circuit.

Judge N. A. Morris claims the election by 307 majority, while H. L. Patterson, of Forsyth, asserts that if he had been given a square deal in Gilmer he would have carried the election by a good majority. He claims his friends were shut out from the polls and were kept from voting by intimidation.

Otherwise Peaceful.

Outside of the foregoing, the Macon convention is going to be one of the calmest and most peaceable that has been held in Georgia in years.

So far as the governorship and most of the other statehouse offices are concerned, it will be a veritable lullaby.

The nomination of Hon. John M. Slaton for governor will be practically unanimous, and the necessary names will be named, and then democrats all over Georgia will get busy for the success of the state and national tickets.

"JAY WALKING" IS A DISEASE IN ATLANTA DECLARE THE WORRIED TRAFFIC OFFICERS

A "jay-walker" gets what's coming to him. Remarkable photograph taken on Whitehall street, near the corner of Hunter.

What! Don't know a "Jay Walker"? Never have seen one?

Then you have never been at Five Points, nor Whitehall and Alabama streets, or perhaps you are one yourself.

Quizz the first cop you meet, inquire of your family physician, or one of the bone-setters at any hospital, or ask the guy who holds the inquest.

This Will Be Verdict.

Some of these days the coroner's jury will return verdicts which will read: "Came to his death from 'Jay Walking.'" It used to be a habit—persons who claim to be authorities on the subject say—but now it is a disease. And it's catching, just like chickenpox, a thirst for something cold to drink—the morning after.

A traffic policeman at Five Points designated at least fifty persons who were "Jay Walkers." And the strange part of it none of them realize it. Few have even thought of such a thing, and if you should happen to accuse them they would probably knock on your ding dong for the information.

"You can stand on this corner any busy afternoon and count nearly twice that number," the cop declared.

"See that guy over there, well he's a 'Jay Walker.' Some day there will be nothing but a grease spot here, and his family will point to the spot where daddy was last seen. It is what they call a busy business man in the story books, but he is what us cops call a nuisance, a 'Jay Walker,' a man who is always in his own way."

"Looker there! I told you—"

Mr. "Jay Walker" is Dancker.

And the cop pointed to the Decatur street crossing. The "Jay Walker" had started across the street, nose pointed heavenward, and all unconscious of the fact that a lumber truck, puffing and snorting, and shrieking under the sudden pressure of the brakes, was bearing down on him. Instead of beating it for the nearest sidewalk, Mr. "Jay Walker" stops in his tracks and continues to gaze complacently at a negro washing a second story window in the opposite building.

"Can you beat that?" demanded the cop, and he hastens over to inform Mr. "Jay Walker" that the driver of the truck is entitled to about ten feet of the street.

"See that dame flirting across the street?" exclaimed the cop, pointing to a vision that looked like a rainbow shooting across Peachtree. "Well, she is a 'Jay Walker.'"

"I don't get yer, Steve—explain?"

"Well, Be, 'Jay Walkers' are persons who cut across corners—dash across the streets cat-cornered—who have not the time to walk along the sidewalk to the proper crossing. 'Jay Walkers' are people who are always flirting with death—who will run right in front of a street car, an automobile, or a fire engine, and if they happen to get splattered with mud will curse the driver to a fare-thee-well. And if—"

"Hold on you bonehead!" shouted the cop at a chauffeur who was about to run his motor over a group of women who stood in the center of the street to exchange greetings, "ain't you got no respect for ladies what hold receptions on the street—"

"Misses, won't you please move to the sidewalk and let that fathead with the ice truck go by? Thank you ever so much—"

"Gee, but it's getting fierce."

PROBE TO STRIKE INTO THE HEART OF SLUSH FUND

La Follette Wins His Fight for Investigation of Activities of Archbold and of Perkins.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS INCLUDED IN THE PROBE

Resolution Demands All Correspondence Between Archbold and Congressmen—Activities of Perkins in Behalf of Roosevelt to Be Investigated.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, August 26.—(Special.)—A good many reputations will be hugg out on the line during the present session by the Clapp investigating committee. Although a good many statesmen voted for the resolution with much reluctance today, the Penrose resolution of inquiry was finally put through. It directs the committee to investigate presidential campaigns and candidates, members of congress, and the relations of both to the steel trust and the Standard Oil company from 1900 down to the present time. Such a sweeping investigation of itself by one branch of congress was probably never before ordered. The machinery for putting it through is rather wobbly and uncertain.

Senator Clapp, a supporter of Mr. Roosevelt, is not at all keen for the investigation. The slap at him by the big moose for letting Archbold depart for Europe immediately following his appearance on the witness stand has not improved the temper of the chairman of the committee. He will insist that the places of the two democratic members of the committee shall be filled, saying if this is not done he will resign. Senator Luke Lea has resigned from the committee, and Senator Paynter is also unable to serve.

Penrose to Fight to End.

Senator Penrose has made up his mind to carry the fight to the end, and declared today he saw his course as clean as a hound's tooth, and would call every bluff that Mr. Roosevelt made and prove to the country his charges of the $125,000 Standard Oil contribution in 1904.

At the end of a 3-day fight, in which Senator La Follette's threat of a continued filibuster hung over the senate to force consideration, that body today passed the Penrose resolution, calling for a complete investigation of the campaign contributions of John D. Archbold and George W. Perkins, and of all "financial transactions and correspondence relating thereto" between the two financiers and "Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, representatives in congress and members of the senate of the United States."

Opposition Died Out.

Objections to the resolution died out in the final hours of the session. When the senate met at noon it had been mutually agreed that no opposition would be made to Senator La Follette's request for action. Based on the charges made by Senator Penrose.

ALABAMA WOMAN TRAPS LAMMONS

Man Accused of Embezzling $11,000 Is Caught in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., August 26.—The quick-wittedness of an Alabama woman visiting friends here caused the arrest today of John Monroe Lammons, 30 years old, formerly superintendent of education of Geneva county, Alabama, who is wanted in Montgomery, Ala., on the charge of embezzling teachers' salaries and school funds to the amount of $11,000.

Lammons escaped one week ago from the Montgomery jail, where he had been confined awaiting trial, though he was allowed the freedom of the building.

When arraigned at local police headquarters he admitted that he was the man wanted, and said he was willing to return to Montgomery without requisition papers.

While walking along the street this morning, Lammons was recognized by the Alabama woman. She avoided being seen by him, went to a telephone and called up the detective bureau. Half an hour later detectives saw a man answering Lammons' description sitting in the lobby of a hotel. He admitted his name was Lammons, but when told of the charges against him admitted his identity.

Cockran With Bull Moose.

Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y., August 26.—(Special.)—Cockran, former democratic congressman, was designated by the progressive committee of the local congressmen here tonight as candidate for the nomination for congress.

OLD FEUD STIRRED UP IN TENNESSEE POLITICS

Nashville, Tenn., August 26.—(Special.)—Judge W. K. McAllister, who as a member of the supreme court of Tennessee voted to send Colonel Cooper to the penitentiary for twenty years for his part in the murder of Senator Edward Carmack, today announced his candidacy for the United States senate in opposition to ex-Governor M. R. Patterson, subject to a primary election.

It was Governor Patterson who issued a pardon to Colonel Cooper within thirty minutes after the supreme court had announced its decision in the famous case.

"Patterson's action in this matter," said another close connection he had with the murder of Senator Carmack, caused him to withdraw from Tennessee politics until recently, when he announced as a candidate to succeed Newell Sanders, of Chattanooga, a wealthy republican, who was appointed by Governor Ben Hooover soon after the death of Senator "Bob" Taylor.

The announcement of Judge McAllister is expected to cause the most exciting race for senatorial honors since that between Carmack and Taylor six years ago.

A special from Dresden, also, announces that Judge Joseph E. Jones will be a candidate for the senate, and is now preparing a statement which will be released in a short time. Judge Jones is the judge who presided in the famous night rider cases which resulted in the imposition of death sentences on the men who murdered Colonel Quentin Rankin, at Reelfoot Lake, four years ago.

Sanctuary of Race.

Nashville, Tenn., August 26.—Senator Newell Sanders issued a statement tonight saying he will not seek reelection, but will devote all his time to effecting the election of Governor Hooper and President Taft, and will seek to have a legislature elected which will not upset the present prohibition laws.

POVERTY PINCHES THE LITTLE ONES

Scores of Children Can't Go to School This Year.

Their Parents Are Too Poor to Supply the Necessary Books and Clothing, and Their Offspring Must Pay the Penalty of Poverty.

KNIFE WILL BE USED TO STOP CRIMINAL BREED

Albany, N. Y., August 26.—Governor Dix today announced appointment of a board of examiners for feeble-minded, criminals and other defectives. The object of the board is to prevent the procreation of this class of people.

The examiners are empowered to examine into the mental and physical condition of the record and family history of the feeble-minded, epileptic, criminal and other inmates at the state hospitals for the insane, state prisons, reformatories and penal institutions and one of its members is authorized to perform such operation for the prevention of procreation as shall be decided by the board to be most effective.

Only criminals convicted of such offenses as convince the board they are subject to "confirmed criminal tendencies" come within the operation of the law. Members of the board are Dr. Charles H. Andrews, of Buffalo; Dr. Lemon Thompson, of Glens Falls; and Dr. Charles C. Duryea, of Schenectady.

DRUNKEN NEGRO CAUSES TRAGEDY

W. H. Griffin Killed at Kingston By W. J. Wooten.

Kingston, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—W. H. Griffin, a prominent merchant and splendid citizen of this place, was shot and instantly killed tonight at 9 o'clock by W. J. Wooten. The difficulty arose over a drunken negro by the name of Penny Bailey, who, passing through the town, was shouting in a drunken religious way. Filled with popskull whisky he made the welkin ring with praise to God for having saved his soul. The marshal and a number of citizens arrested him and carried him to the town jail, where falling on the floor he began to roll over and over in his drunken frenzy.

W. H. Griffin jokingly remarked that the negro was a holy roller. W. J. Wooten, having recently allied himself with the Russells, took the matter up. After a few hot words, there was the report of a pistol and W. H. Griffin was shot to death. The bullet struck him in the left shoulder, deflected downward and entered the heart. Wooten was carried to Cartersville and turned over to the sheriff.

JOHNSON DEPOSED AS C. O. P. CHIEF

Former Leader and Clark Grier Panned to a Frazzle.

The wedding out process, "the separation of the sheep and the goats," was started by the republican state central committee, at the meeting held yesterday. The "goats," as was gleefully forecast, were Colonel Walter H. Johnson, of Atlanta, United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia, and Clark Grier, of Dublin, the former taking a rather rough and altogether unpleasant slide down the skid from the chairmanship of the committee.

And now the republicans of Georgia have a new leader. He is Henry S. Jackson, of Atlanta. The committee also named him chairman of the campaign committee which will have its headquarters in Atlanta for Georgia, and a start will be made immediately to line up the 75,000 alleged republican voters in the state.

The meeting was lively from the jump. Colonel Johnson and Mr. Grier were panned to a frazzle. The "Colonel" was right on the spot, but the latter used an abundance of discretion and, although he was reported to be in the city, he did not make much noise around the statehouse. Johnson was charged with working with T. R. and his bull moose, at the Chicago convention, by attempting to sway Georgia's battered delegates from Taft to Teddy.

Colonel Johnson Deposed.

Colonel Johnson acted perfectly calm throughout the meeting, although he was alive to the fact that Henry Lincoln Johnson, leader of the black and tan faction of the party, was out with a lariat to get his ankora. He voted for the resolution which pledged the support of the committee to Taft, and which approved the platform adopted at the Windy City fest. But on top of it all, and while a sort of truce was being framed up, B. H. Pickett, of Fannin county, one of the four republican representatives in the Georgia legislature, put over the resolution to depose Colonel Johnson and put in Mr. Jackson.

The introduction of the resolution brought on a lot of talk. Henry Lincoln Johnson said that it was not true that the Roosevelt delegates at Chicago were not treated squarely, and denounced the allegations that Taft stole the convention. He said that he was in Washington at the hearing and was satisfied that Taft got the delegates and the convert of truce was the square. Besides, he said, Governor

PREACHER'S WIFE LEFT HIM BECAUSE HE BOUGHT MOWER

Calhoun, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—Rev. J. B. DeFoor, a local Baptist preacher and farmer living near Resaca, is suing for divorce in the present term of the Gordon county superior court.

It appears from the evidence in the case that Rev. DeFoor and his wife lived happily for many years, until one day DeFoor went to town and bought a mowing machine. When he returned with the machine his wife examined it and declared that he would have to choose between her and the mowing machine. He remonstrated, but in vain, and when his wife saw that he would not dispose of the mowing machine she left him. That was five years ago, and ever since DeFoor has been living with his mowing machine and his wife with relatives.

Efforts were made several times to effect a reconciliation, but without success. It is expected that the divorce will be granted, and thus will end the romantic tragedy of a mowing machine.

BABY FRANZ GLIMPSED AMERICA AND DEATH CLOSED HIS EYES

New York, August 26.—Baby Franz Sches, aboard an Atlantic liner, was to have arrived in the United States, the land of promise, today. To their steamer companions his parents had told of their ambitions centered in the boy and the wonderful future dreamed of for him. Two days out from sight of the statue of liberty the boy sickened. Early today the ship's surgeon carefully examined the baby and gave a hopeless negative to the mother's entreaty.

"But he must live to see America," cried the father. "It is for that we came here." Again the surgeon shook his head.

Just then a light twinkled like a firefly on the horizon. Some one shouted that it was the Fire Island light, the first signal of the new country. With the gasping baby in his arms the father went on deck. He held little Franz in his arms, the child's drooping eyelids lifted for a moment at sight of the far-off light. Then they closed forever.

THIS NEGRO QUITS ROOSEVELT.

Chicago, August 26.—W. T. Andrews, of Sumpter, S. C., a negro editor, today visited Director Mulroney, of the republican national convention, and he voted for Colonel Roosevelt in the republican national convention and attempted to attend the progressive national convention as a delegate from South Carolina. He said he was refused a seat in the progressive convention, and as a result has decided to champion Mr. Taft's candidacy.

CONGRESS SPENT OVER A BILLION

But the Total Is Over $7,000,000 Less Than the 1912 Budget.

Washington, August 26.—Congress closed another billion-dollar session today, but the exact total of the nation's "cost of living" varies as it is seen through republican and democratic eyes.

The total appropriations for the fiscal year of 1913, which began July 1, 1912, amount to $1,915,636,143.66, as given to the senate and house today.

It is conceded by both of these leaders that this is $7,045,000 less than the nation's budget of 1912, but it remained for former Speaker Cannon, in behalf of the republican forces of the house, to produce figures to show that the present democratic congress had actually appropriated more for general purposes than did the preceding republican congress.

Representative Cannon declared that out of the general total should be taken all expenditures made for the Panama canal. With such deductions, he said, the total appropriations for 1913 would be $399,656,143, as compared with a total of $381,122,881 appropriated for general purposes last year.

Predictions that the government would face a heavy deficit at the end of the year were made both by Senator Warren and Representative Cannon.

Senator Warren said President Taft and his cabinet had carefully reduced estimates to the lowest figures. The appropriations actually made are over $21,000,000 less than the then estimates, and the republican leaders declare it will be impossible for the existing government agencies to keep within them.

LAGRANGE COMPLAINS TO COMMERCE BOARD

Washington, August 26.—Complaint was made to the interstate commerce commission today by the chamber of commerce of LaGrange, Ga., of both class and commodity freight rates to LaGrange, from Ohio and Mississippi river transfer points. It was alleged that the rates were discriminatory as compared with those from the same points to Atlanta, Ga., and Opelika, Ala. Practically all railroads of the south are made defendants in the proceedings.

GRAFT CRUSADE AT NEW ORLEANS

Alleged That Detective Burns Has Evidence of Gross Corruption.

New Orleans, August 26.—Following the publication in a local newspaper of an article stating that Detective William J. Burns, at the instance of several citizens, is making an investigation of municipal conditions in New Orleans, which have been productive of sensational revelations, Mayor Martin Behrman today requested Judge Chretien, of the criminal district court, to convene a special session of the grand jury to make an independent investigation.

It is said the investigation by the Burns agency has brought to light conditions almost as startling as those which existed in Atlantic City, Detroit and other cities, where Burns had been called upon to expose graft and corruption.

"Demand facts, not rumors or hints," asserted Mayor Behrman. If there is any corruption in the police or any other department of the city government, I want the public to know it, and so far as I am concerned, I pledge the people that no man, whatever his position, will be shielded from prosecution, and, if guilty, punishment.

Judge Chretien, of the criminal district court, called the grand jury to meet in extraordinary session tomorrow morning.

Those who are behind the Burns investigation are not pleased with the counter move on the part of Mayor Behrman and the administration leaders. They express the fear that an effort will be made to make the Burns representatives reveal information before the investigation has been completed.

Boys Killed by Live Wire. Jackson, Tenn., August 26.—George and Frank McClanahan, aged 7 and 8, respectively, sons of W. M. McClanahan, were killed yesterday afternoon while playing with a wire which was thought to be dead. They had frequently played with the wire before.

Chained Prisoner Shocked. Chattanooga, August 26.—James Dewey, a colored prisoner in the Hamilton county workhouse, was severely shocked last night by a bolt of lightning which entered the house on electric wires and then found its way to a chain extending from the building to which Dewey and twenty-nine other prisoners were handcuffed. None of the other prisoners except Dewey were shocked.

WHY IS CONSUMER ALWAYS THE GOAT?

Gov. Marshall Puts Question to Maine Voters.

Wilson's Running Mate Shows the Relentless Cruelty to the Consumer of the Republican Tariff—Honest Taxation Is Demanded.

Portland, Maine, August 26.—In his first political address since accepting the democratic nomination for vice president of the United States, Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, condemned the protective tariff system before a democratic mass meeting here tonight. Governor Marshall was the first of the party leaders from outside the state to take part in the democratic campaign preceding the state election, September 9.

Because liquor legislation has been a feature of Governor Marshall's administration, it had been expected by some Maine democrats that the speaker might refer to the Maine prohibitory law. Governor Marshall, however, said he would not discuss local issues.

"I am a democrat," he said in this connection, "and because I am a democrat, I believe in the doctrine of local government. I believe, too, that at this particular time national issues are of more importance than local questions. Therefore, I want to talk exclusively on what I conceive to be national issues."

Consumer Always the Goat. Summing up, Governor Marshall asked:

"Why must the consumer always be the goat? I believe in vested rights but I don't believe in vested wrongs. I don't particularly ensure the manufacturers for getting all they can, but I maintain that the proof of the iniquity is so plain that the blame is on the people."

In part Governor Marshall said: "It is idle for some men to make declarations. Broken promises are words more eloquent than their deeds."

"Who is going to believe the regular republican organization when it declares that it is opposed to special privilege?"

"Does any one doubt that for seven and one-half years the leader of the progressive party was in power in this country? Can any one put his finger upon a single effort made by him to curb the monopolistic tendency which was then rampant? Does any one believe that his new platform, which stands both for socialism and for a system of licensing and curbing, is anything more than a bid for votes?"

"If there are laws to eliminate special privilege the republicans did not enforce them; if there are no effective laws, they failed to enact effective ones; if conditions are such as to prevent proper control, they became so under their responsibility."

Wealth Not Fairly Distributed. "I do not address myself to the man who is satisfied with the statement that we are the richest people in the world. If he means to say there are more rich men in America than in any other country, he is correct, but if he implies that the natural and acquired wealth of America has been fairly and honestly distributed among the people, he is altogether wrong."

"If it is unequally distributed, a free people has the power to correct the evils which permit of cause unequal distribution. If they do not correct them they ought to cease growling about them."

"I have lived long enough to follow the changing reasons advanced for the high protective tariff; I have found them all to be shifty, uncertain and dishonest. First, it was to pay off the war debt by compelling the foreign manufacturer to contribute to the United States treasury; before it was to foster our infant industries; then to protect American labor against the pauper labor of Europe; and finally in the last campaign to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad. At last the statement was made that the government proposed to take its manufactures into partnership with it and that this partnership was proposed to sell to the consumers of this country all the necessities of life except those grown upon the farms, not for the benefit of the government, but for the benefit of the manufacturer.

"I, myself, have never been able to determine what system of business or what partnership with the man who made the cloth that is in my coat while I have been on the protected manufacturer to sell the surplus at home and the product abroad. This will for the first time in history compel the foreigner to pay the tax."

"The republicans, both standpoint and progressive, have been responsible for this condition of affairs. They do not recede from this system, but they propose to give us some sort of a scientific investigation which may disclose, like the declaration of independence that in the course of human events some slight changes should be made in the schedules. I cannot say how soon these inquiries can be adjusted and these burdens removed from the people but I do say that boards and commissions and experts are too slow; that it is the duty of the congress of the United States to take the burden of high living from the people and that the democratic theory of tariff for revenue is the only defensible theory."

PUCKETT LEAVES CITY PARK BOARD

Barred From Commission by Charter Amendment and by Change of Residence.

Waldo C. Puckett is no longer a member of the park commission. His retirement is due to two causes, first, he will move from the first ward, from which he was elected to the third ward; and second, because an amendment to the city charter prohibits any person from holding two city offices at the same time. Mr. Puckett is investigator in the city attorney's office and under the charter amendment he cannot hold that office and also that of park commissioner.

He has been on the park commission several years and has done some good work for park improvement. His manufactures into partnership with it and that this partnership was proposed to sell to the consumers of this country all the necessities of life except those grown upon the farms, not for the benefit of the government, but for the benefit of the manufacturer.

A CONTRAST IN PARTIES.

No recent development more strikingly emphasizes the solidarity of the democratic party and the plight in which the two wings of the republican party find themselves than Penrose's bomb-shell charges against Roosevelt and the coincidental announcement of democratic campaign plans.

It is likely the majority of fair-minded people will suspend final judgment with regard to the republican slush-fund accusations, but that fact will not prevent the allegations of the senator from Pennsylvania from exerting tremendous influence upon public sentiment everywhere. Colonel Roosevelt has had remarkable luck throughout his career in meeting the attacks of his political enemies, and it is yet to be demonstrated that the current instance will prove an exception. It is early in the fray, too, and later and more exciting incidents may be expected to, in a way, divert the mind of the voter from the Penrose indictment. The motive behind the accusation will also have its effect, ultimately, upon the public decision.

But what rises, clear and salient, above all these mitigating circumstances, is that the National Progressive party, as well as the old-line republicans—for both contingents are inextricably identified with the whole affair—enter the campaign admittedly the most difficult for the republican party since the civil war, torn and quarreling and besmirched in an amazing degree. If the so-called Bull Moose element is beset with troubles, the stand-patters have none the less a heavy load to carry. And each day brings a new supply of faggots to the fire of dissension burning in both camps.

Contrast, now, the position of democracy. Concurrently with the announcement that former President Roosevelt will make an excathedral reply to the Penrose charges, comes the tentative outline of the democratic pre-election campaign. Leaders of every faction in the party, irrespective of past differences, have been scheduled to speak for the platform and the ticket. There is no proscription, no strife save that which can be settled within the family, and at every point the organization shows symptoms of that impregnable discipline that enabled the republicans to hold sway, with but two administrative exceptions, for half a century.

In this connection, democrats of Georgia should bear in mind the appeal of the national managers for popular campaign subscriptions. Newspapers throughout Georgia are authorized to relay forward to the proper source. In actuality, the democracy is monotonous.

THE NEW YORK POLICE SCANDAL.

There are elements about the New York police scandal, which had its sensational denouement following the midnight murder of Herman Rosenthal, which strike the country with amazement. One feature that is regrettable has been the apparent inactivity of Mayor Gaynor and Commissioner Waldo for the past two months. While the herculean task of cleaning out the police department, which seems honeycombed with graft and reeking with rottenness, is enough to stagger any man, surely the mayor and police commissioner were the ones to take the lead in the work of reform. Yet, weeks passed before there was any apparent action on the part of either. It should not have taken so long for these officials to convince themselves that what the morning papers of the metropolis reported, three hours after the fatal shot was fired, was the truth.

Yet the first public expression of the mayor was a denial that he admitted that graft had existed for forty years. A few days ago mild disapproval of police officers dining in public restaurants with well-known crooks and gamblers. Today the man whose amount of damning evidence piled up against him. Next to the newspapers, most credit for undertaking to bring the New York criminals to justice, and to reform the police department, belongs to District Attorney Whitman. He has shown fine courage, resourcefulness and a grim determination to do his duty.

But the daily newspapers saw the grim tragedy in its entirety. They pointed out the ramifications of the graft system, which had claimed the life of a man who had "squealed," and mercilessly drove home the charge until city officials were bound to take notice of it.

Last of all, the silence of the 10,000 "honest policemen," who serve the city, needs explaining. Many of them patrol beats lined with the close-shuttered, window-grilled gambling houses, and they pass day and night the men who operate these dens and others who make their operation profitable. What of them? Why have they been silent in this great public crisis?

TAFT'S MEXICAN BURDEN.

With congress about to adjourn, private and public voices from Mexico indicate that turbulence and anarchy still prevail in reached the diminishing point.

This situation means that until congress convenes again in the hands of President Taft.

The responsibility is by no means a light one. With congress at hand to authorize policies or to assume the consequences that one. But as it is now, the president will henceforth be called upon to act solely upon his own initiative, even to the extent of directing intervention, should he finally decide that such a course is essential to the preservation of American interests.

Irrespective of partisanship, the Constitution does not hesitate to say that the nation is fortunate in possessing at this moment of crisis a chief executive who has, specifically with regard to Mexico, demonstrated a determination not to go off at a tangent to or proceed without due consideration of what may follow. Occasional intervention during the past eighteen months, have been seen that it would be easier to enter the country than to leave it, and he has unquestionably not forgotten the international complications that might be the by-products of a Mexican invasion.

Mr. Taft has, in instances heretofore cited by The Constitution, been handicapped by wrong-headed, malicious or selfish advisers. His cause has suffered in that he notoriously lacks that respect. But in the case of Mexico, he has thus far written into and a courage proof against the attacks of the hot-heads of either party.

THE CONGRESSIONAL WRANGLE.

As in every presidential year, the sessions of congress have finally achieved the proportions of a farce-comedy, with weary congressmen battling over belated appropriations and "pork-barrel" projects and a no less weary nation anxious for a rest from it all.

The situation has, of course, been complicated this year by several factors, among them a hybrid congress, one chamber democratic and the other nominally republican; by the projection of every politician of normal astuteness that the knowledge on part will have a material bearing on the November elections.

The nation would, perhaps, be the gainer were all congressional sessions, save upon extraordinary occasions, regulated by been wasted this year, and the omnipresent spectacle of jockeying devices some means to make our national legislature more manageable and less dreary is likely to receive the plaudits of a grateful people.

"Just From Georgia"

Humanity's Friend.

The world still will listen and ever more turn
To the man who arises with "Move we adjourn!"

No orator's eloquence has he to learn,
He strikes the same keynote with "Move we adjourn!"

"Cut it out! Boil it down!"
It's for rest that we yearn!"

Speaks the voice of the people
In "Move we adjourn!"

Legislatures and congress, with issues that burn,
Must rise to that motion of "Move we adjourn!"

The genius of Rest in three words we discern,
Through the tired-out brother who moves we adjourn!"

Taking talk to a frazzle,
No wisdom we learn
Till we hear from the fellow
Who moves we adjourn."

Just Refreshed His Memory.
"You are charged with selling your vote," said the justice.

"Never sold a vote in my life," was the reply. "I found a $2 bill in the middle of the road, with a card pinned to it an' the colonel's name on that card, and as he happened to be running for office I remembered that I had made up my mind to vote for him, and I done it—that's all!"

What the Fields Say.
I.
The fields, they say,
On the harvest day,
"This lesson don't forget:
Your prayer was said
For your daily bread,
And there's life in the old land yet!"

II.
"Here's golden store
For the toiling poor,
Life to be a glad tune set.
We saw their tears,
We heard their prayers,
There's life in the old land yet!"

Political Philosophy.
"I lost the office," writes a Georgia philosopher, "but what's the odds? If I had won like a whirlwind I'd have made enemies of my opponents, and I would have taken me from now till doomsday to keep all my campaign promises. But I'm ahead anyhow, for the running was fine, healthy exercise. I lost a few dollars, but gained twenty pounds."

Just Human Folks.
Winter—he pelted us,
Summer—he melted us,
Always a wish to tell 'em goodby;
But the truth is forever,
We're satisfied never,
There's no pleasan' sinners this side o' the sky.

A Cheerful Financier.
"He's always saying that the world is his friend."

"Yes; keeps it in such a jolly good humor that it hasn't the heart to send a bill to him."

Dr. Cooter Chosen.
Bristol, Tenn., August 26.—Dr. James T. Cooter, of Kansas, has been elected president of Washington college, recently separated from Tusculum by decree of court. Dr. Cooter was president of Washington three years ago, and Tusculum. He will take charge of the school at the opening in September.

Passing Away.
(Dedicated to the survivors of the Blue and the Gray.)
I.
Ruthlessly, grimly, Time with his sharp scythe
Is reaping.
Rapidly reaping his harvest of human souls,
Soon will the last of us, my comrades, be sleeping.
Where never respite sounds will wake him again,
Death's cruel blow has dealt the ranks of the Blue and Gray.

II.
Meet your last foe, my comrades, with smiling defiance,
As you go often have done, and fear not his frown.
Laid in the robes of your glory, yield him no fear,
Let the badge on your breast flame fame for you.

III.
Many a high honor, for years, have you been enjoying,
And a great nation's reverence shall yours be for ever.
What should it matter to you, then, that you are passing away?

IV.
When you have crossed the river God's angels will wave you
Gladly from flowers that fade in Paradise grow.
Comrades who crossed before you will crowd
To welcome you.

Hands stretched to greet you, shouting glad acclaim,
Think of the wonder, the rapture, of soul-companions,
Think of the glory that Heaven will witness
When there shall gathered be for eternal reunion.

Blue and the Gray!

DESPONDENT OVER WIFE'S DEATH, HE KILLS HIMSELF

Columbus, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—Hiram N. Pendergrass, a member of the city police force, committed suicide at midnight last night at his home on Rose Hill by shooting his brains out. Pendergrass had been sick two weeks of bilious fever, although not seriously ill. Last night his daughter was nursing him, and about midnight he asked her to get him a glass of milk. When she left the room he placed the muzzle of a revolver in his mouth and fired. The bullet raged through his head and part of the upper part of his brain were scattered on the bedclothes. Pendergrass' wife died a few weeks ago, and sorrow over her death is the only cause that can be attributed to the suicide. He had been a member of the police force five years, and was a popular fraternal order man, and was well liked. Four children survive him. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that Pendergrass died from a gunshot wound inflicted by his own hands.

"GILMER COUNTY ELECTION STOLEN FOR JUDGE MORRIS"

---Carl Hutcherson

One of the most sensational matters of the good that a public man might be to come before the state convention at Macon on Wednesday is the contest for the judgeship of the Blue Ridge circuit, the contestants being H. L. Patterson, of Cummings, and N. A. Morris, of Marietta, who has held the office for the past two years.

The bones of contention are Gilmer and Fannin counties, the Patterson faction robbed them of these counties in the recent democratic primary, which took place on August 21. Gilmer county has been in the limelight of years. The Patterson faction claims that if the state convention throws out Gilmer county Patterson will be the nominee.

Patterson Robbed, He Says.
Carl Hutcherson, well-known Atlanta attorney, who has been employed by Mr. Patterson to appear before the state convention as his leading counsel, yesterday afternoon, said: "I have just returned from Macon, county seat of Gilmer. Conditions there are deplorable. There is a recent race between N. A. Morris and H. L. Patterson for the judgeship of that circuit. There is no doubt in the minds of the people all over the county that the Morris faction there deliberately stole the election of that county and presented it to Judge Morris upon a silver platter. I have spent three days in Gilmer upon a mission of investigation of the state of affairs, and in all of my life I have never seen such rot and filth. The throwing of the election throughout. Everything was irregular and illegal, and the conditions, to my mind, were most surprising. It is the policy of many attorneys not to criticize courts and court officials and powerful politicians, as they fear such personages, because they may have to appear before them at some future time. But on the one hand, I have enough to denounce the actions of the Morris faction."

"I shall go before that convention and with an enormous amount of evidence to support the contention of Mr. Patterson show that the election in Gilmer county was stolen for Judge Morris."

"The citizens of Gilmer county need to be freed from Judge Morris and his faction. They feel this fact as a stain on the honor of the state. I have gathered which is so rotten that it causes a stench in the nostrils of a decent person. The good people are in the majority in that county; yes, an overwhelming majority."

"Yesterday, at 11:30 o'clock in the morning, a mass meeting of more than 500 good white citizens, landowners and tax-payers, assembled in the courthouse of Gilmer county and passed resolutions denouncing the action of the democratic executive committee of Gilmer county, and the methods used by Judge Morris in the recent primary. They passed resolutions denouncing the methods of the registrars of that county. Why these resolutions?"

"The hundreds of white men, tax-payers, landowners, confederate veterans enfeebled with age, appeared at the polls in the various districts of that county, after they had registered. They were not allowed to vote, and their names were on the registration list as given out by W. A. Cox, clerk of the superior court, with his copy. Separate lists were made and sent to the many four or five districts, there being four or five districts in all as I remember. When his vote as a democratic voter, he was informed by the managers that his name was not on the list and consequently was not allowed to vote."

GEORGIA MEN SELL KENTUCKY LANDS FOR OVER $5,000,000

Valdosta, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—B. L. Hall, of Valdosta, and Colonel S. K. Ford, of Thelma, Ga., are back from New York, where they closed the year, selling the biggest land deals of the year, selling a million acres of Kentucky coal and timber lands to an English and Dutch syndicate for $5,000,000. Colonel Ford was the principal owner of the land, but Mr. Hall was associated with him through options on the land, and he was a considerable portion of it, the latter to between $1,000,000 and $1,250,000. An immense profit was realized by Colonel Ford in the deal. Much of the land which he sold for $5 an acre originally cost him less than 20 cents an acre.

Mr. Hall's profit was also a very large one, having practically doubled the money he put into the deal. The property less than a year ago, he had been pending with the syndicate for several months. York three weeks ago to meet the foreign representatives and the deal was closed in a few days after they reached here. Colonel Ford was one of the fruitland, Ga., but disposed of his interests there a few years ago. He is many times a millionaire and has been spending the summer at Thelma. Mr. Hall is a well-known turpentine operator of this city.

NOMINATION ACCEPTED BY EUGENE V. DEBS

Terre Haute, Ind., August 26.—In marked contrast to the notification ceremony practiced by other political parties, the socialist presidential candidate, E. V. Debs, today accepted his nomination by simply informing the newspapers that they were at liberty to print his address of acceptance, which he had sent them in printed form.

No committee called on Mr. Debs, and there was an entire lack of ceremony of any kind. The extreme simplicity of the occasion was marked further by Mr. Debs' preparations for a trip to Persimmon Falls, Minn., where he will speak tomorrow night.

In his statement Debs said: "The new progressive party is a party of progressive capitalism. It is lavishly financed and shrewdly advertised. But it stands for the rule of capitalism all the time. When the owners of the trusts finance a party to put themselves out of business, when they turn over their wealth to the people from whom they stole it and go to work and make an honest living, it will be time enough to consider the merits of the Roosevelt progressive party."

The question is sufficient to determine the true status of all these parties. Do they want the workers to own the tools they work with, control their own jobs and secure to themselves the wealth they produce? Certainly not. That is utterly ridiculous and impossible from their point of view."

He put the republican and democratic parties in the same class.

"WIRELESS" WILSON DIES BELIEVING PAROLE NEAR

Just after he finished a letter to his daughter, Olla Wilson, at her home in Lancaster, Texas, telling her of his excellent health and a quick parole he felt sure would come after the next session of the pardon board, Christopher Columbus Wilson, known during his spectacular trial and since his conviction as "Wireless" Wilson, became suddenly ill and despite heroic efforts by physicians and nurses breathed his last Sunday night at 10:10 o'clock in the federal prison hospital.

Wilson's death was not only sudden but, despite his 67 years of life, was a great surprise to the warden and other officials about in prison. For months past Wilson had been working in the prison library. His education, his extensive reading and his wide observation in days gone by all conspired to make him a valuable man in that line of work.

Was Writing to Daughter.
Sunday he came into the library looking in the best of health. The library is open to prisoners up to 5 o'clock in the evening and in the early evening hours several men were gathered there, some reading, some writing. Wilson put in those hours writing and with two letters enveloped, but not sealed, as they were yet to pass under the warden's eye, he busied himself with the third. The two finished letters had been placed in small envelopes and had been addressed.

A large letter had been placed in a large envelope and addressed when the writer suddenly leaned back in his chair and groaned. The groan was heard by companions, some of whom were leaving the library and a glance satisfied that the prison librarian had been stricken with serious illness. They rushed to his side and as he did not respond to questions the alarm was given. Dr. G. B. Ayers was summoned and the sick man was carried to the hospital.

SOL THE SMASHER JAILED; HE SMASHED GLASS DOORS

"Sol the Smasher" has been caught by the police.
"Sol the Smasher" is a contemporary and companion-piece of "Jack the Ripper." While Jack gave vent to his criminal inclinations by finding a human victim to rip with a knife, "Sol the Smasher" allowed his lawless propensities to have full sway by smashing glasses in doors of private residences.

For six months or more a mysterious person has been smashing door glasses at night and all the police ascertained about the smasher was that he was known to negroes in Darktown as "Sol the Smasher."

The last smashing episode occurred Saturday night, when a number of glass doors were wrecked on Williams street. A quick run by call officers resulted in the smasher being caught. He gave his name as Sol Durham, and admitted that he was the mysterious "Sol the Smasher."

Durham was arraigned in the police court Monday morning before the acting recorder, Alderman James E. Warren. The prisoner had never been known to the police before, and he is one negro who is not down on the list of suspects.

It was stated in court that "Sol the Smasher" had within the past six months smashed between sixty and seventy-five glass doors.

The acting recorder held the negro in a $300 bond for malicious mischief. Sol could not make the bond and is now safe behind the bars of the Fulton county jail. This will doubtless be welcome news to many citizens who have been in nightly fear of having their doors smashed.

The negro could give no other reason for his door-smashing than that at times he felt a wild desire to break glass. He said he always carried stones in his pockets so as to always be ready for business when a smashing fit came over him.

TRIAL OF SLADE ON AT CORDELE

Jury Selected Quickly and Testimony of Nearly 100 Witnesses Started.

Cordele, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—The trial of the accused in the trial here today before Judge Walter F. George of Edward, the 18-year-old son of E. Price Slade, charged with the murder of Oscar Johnson, his neighbor, in June, developed no material features.

Little difficulty was experienced in securing a jury. Out of a venire of fifty-five men drawn for the week, only thirty-six of the number had been exhausted when the following jury was empaneled: J. I. Hatfield, E. A. Vinson, W. G. Webb, C. A. Stewart, S. E. Sappington, S. J. Walls, J. F. Calhoun, C. C. Coleman, J. A. Adkins, W. F. Scarborough, C. A. Sanders and G. C. Henry.

From the time of the convening of court the large auditorium was crowded almost to its utmost capacity, embracing many ladies, relatives of both families, who are well known and prominently connected in Crisp and Dooly counties.

Most of the day was consumed in the hearing of state's evidence. More than forty witnesses are embraced on both sides. Another day will be required in hearing of testimony, which involves alleged facts on both sides and concerns a previous difficulty in May between Price Slade, the father, and Johnson.

There were no eye-witnesses, and the plea of the defense is justifiable homicide, while the prosecution is undertaking to show that Johnson was shot from ambush. Photographs of the spot figure prominently in evidence for the state.

DENIED HE WAS DEAD AFTER BEING BURIED

Schenectady, N. Y., August 26.—W. M. Clark, a former resident of this city, but now of Elizabeth, N. J., is in Schenectady this week to pay his burial expenses, he being supposedly dead and buried for more than six weeks. Early in July a man was killed at Binghamton who, through cards in his pocket, was thought to be Clark. His sister was notified and went to Binghamton and identified the body as being her brother's. The burial was arranged for and the sister paid the expenses. Last week a friend, who had been advised of the death, met Clark on the street in Elizabeth and told him he was dead and buried. Clark contradicted the statement and being advised of the facts hastened here.

Nashville, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—An election was held here yesterday for the purpose of filling the vacancy on the board of aldermen caused by the death of Dr. William B. Goodman. M. S. Griffin was nominated without opposition. As there was no contest only a small vote was cast.

RATIFY ELECTION OF SENATOR HUIE

Robert F. Maddox, Chairman, Speaks of Prosperity of State.

The convention of the 25th senatorial district met Monday at noon in the Kimball house and ratified the nomination of G. M. Huie, of Clayton, as senator. Mr. Huie was a member of the last house of representatives and succeeded John M. Slaton, elected governor.

Robert F. Maddox presided at the meeting as chairman. D. F. McClatchey was secretary. On being elected chairman Mr. Maddox spoke briefly of the prosperity of this section, and the fact that the democrats are more united now than ever before. He said in part:

"I believe, commercially speaking, that the south today stands upon the threshold of the brightest days of her history. In addition to this, the south politically, which has been fighting so bravely against such heavy odds to uphold the principles of democracy, is now about to find that her battle has not been in vain. Never before in the history of Georgia has her democracy been more united."

"The recent selection of that genial gentleman, peerless leader, and progressive, yet conservative, statesman, John M. Slaton, by practically the unanimous vote of the democracy of this state insures for all our people a wise administration and a continuation of peace and prosperity as long as he directs the affairs of state."

"It now remains for this convention to confirm the nomination of Hon. G. M. Huie as senator from the thirty-fifth district of Georgia. I have known Mr. Huie for many years. He is a gentleman of the highest type, and his record in the house of representatives of this state insures this district that as senator all our interests will be safe in his hands, and all matters coming before the senate while he is a member of that body, will receive his careful consideration and conscientious vote."

Executive Committee Named.

The executive committee selected by the convention is composed of R. F. Maddox, Reuben Arnold, Byron Huie, J. T. Wright, Claude Mason, Joseph W. Humphries, all of Fulton; W. R. Power, E. P. Dobbs, D. F. McClatchey, J. E. Massey, of Cobb, and L. Z. Gilbert and W. C. Green, of Clayton. R. F. Maddox was chosen chairman and D. F. McClatchey secretary.

At the close of the business session Senator-elect Huie entertained the delegates to the convention at a delightful luncheon.

MORE SENATORS ARE UNDER FIRE

Probe Demanded of the Election of Watson and Chilton. Bribery Charge.

Washington August 26.—A demand for an investigation of the election of Senators William E. Chilton and Clarence W. Watson, of West Virginia, was made in a petition signed by Governor Glascock and others presented today to the senate through Senator Gallinger, the presiding officer.

The petition called attention to charges of bribery publicly made in reference to the election of the two West Virginia senators.

A request for the reading of the petition was made by Senator Penrose before its contents were known. When it had been partially read Senators Bailey and Bacon objected to the printing of its allegations in the senate records before they had been investigated by the committee on privileges and elections.

Senators Bacon and Bailey charged that while the election took place nearly two years ago, and the charges had been made about that time, Governor Glascock and his associates purposely had refrained from sending the petition to the United States senate until almost the last day of its session.

On the motion of Senator McCumber all of the petition that had been read was expunged from the record and the entire document referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

LIGHTNING STRUCK BED AS MOTHER TUCKED IN CHILDREN

Rome, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—While Mrs. Cicero Hammond, wife of a prominent farmer near Armuchee, was tucking the covers around her two children last night, a bolt of lightning struck the foot of the metal bed, demolishing the structure and setting fire to the mattress.

The children were uninjured, while Mrs. Hammond was slightly shocked. The bolt jumped from a tree in the yard through an open window. That there was no serious consequences is considered miraculous.

And if any man suggests another convention lynch him on the spot.

TAFT SPEEDS FOR BEVERLY

President Hopes Vacation Will Be Broken But Little Till December.

Washington, August 26.—Within an hour after the adjournment of congress today President Taft was on his private car bound for Beverly and a vacation he expects will be broken but little until December.

The white house tonight practically was deserted. For Major Thomas L. Rhodes, the president's personal aide, and most of the office employees left with the president. Summer offices will be opened there at once and probably most of the force will stay in Beverly until late in October.

The president will return to Washington for a one-day stay early in September and once again later in that month to keep engagements made long ago, but he did not expect to spend many days in the white house again until election time. He probably will receive the returns in the white house. Later he plans to spend a few weeks at Hot Springs, Va.

The president had almost lost hope of getting a vacation night when he left the executive offices at luncheon time. When he was informed that there was a good chance of adjournment he ordered his automobile brought to the white house and immediately, as soon as luncheon was served, hurried to the capitol.

Only a few resolutions and bills were waiting for his signature and many senators and congressmen dropped in to say goodby.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Postmaster General Hitchcock were two cabinet members left in town who spent an hour or two in the president's room. His pleasure at the prospect of getting away was unmistakable and his laugh was evident frequently. He signed the last bill laid before him with a flourish and a sigh of satisfaction.

FIGHT FOR NEGRO BY WICKERSHAM

Attorney General Trying to Force Dark Assistant on Bar Association.

Milwaukee, Wis., August 26.—"I deny the right of the American Bar association, after it has once seated a member, to oust him on the ground that it has been discovered that he is a negro," said Attorney General George Wickersham, who arrived today to attend the opening here tomorrow of the association's thirty-fifth annual meeting.

Mr. Wickersham came to defend the title of William H. Lewis to a seat in the association. Lewis is an assistant to the attorney general. His membership was revoked by the executive committee on the charge that the committee elected him without knowing he was a negro.

Two other negro members similarly affected. They are Butler R. Wilson, of Boston, and William R. Morris, of Minneapolis. The executive committee, headed by S. S. Gregory, of Chicago, president of the association, has prepared a special report declaring it has been against the association's policy to admit negro members, and saying that Lewis Wilson and Morris were seated on recommendation of local councils without the fact that they were negroes being made generally known. The report asserts the eligibility of the men to membership is not affected by the report and leaves open the question whether the association wants to admit negroes hereafter.

Ralph W. Brockenridge, of Omaha, Neb., submitted a minority report, opposing the committee's action. That he would fight any attempt to oust the negro members was made known by Mr. Wickersham.

"Whether the association wants hereafter to admit negro members is another question," he said, "but there is no doubt that the present executive committee exceeded its power when it undertook to rescind its action."

Those who voted to vacate the seats of the negro attorneys were Lynn Helm, Los Angeles, Cal.; John Hinkley, Baltimore; Hollis R. Bailey, Boston; Aldis B. Browne, Washington, D. C.; Edward H. Farrar, New Orleans; Secretary George Whitelock, Baltimore, and President Gregory.

Simon E. Baldwin, of New Haven, Conn., delivered his tenth address as director before the comparative bureau today.

ONLY ONE HEAD FOR CITY WORK

Duties of Construction Department Will Not Be Divided.

Special Committee Agrees on Plan Which Will Make Important Changes in Office. Alderman McClelland Attacks Caucuses.

To let all the work of the construction department remain under one head, to be known as the chief of construction, this official to be elected by the people, to abolish all the offices known as superintendents of streets, sewers, and repairs and let the chief of construction appoint a street engineer and a sewer engineer; and to strike out the provision of the old law, which required that no person could fill the office of chief of construction unless he was a civil engineer of ten years' experience, was what a majority of a special committee decided to recommend Monday afternoon.

The special committee met immediately after council adjourned, as some of them appeared to want to "rush matters." The committee will be called upon for a report at another meeting of council next Tuesday afternoon.

A minority report. There will be a minority report on the proposed changes in the construction department, as Councilmen Sisson and Hatcher are against the action taken. The members of the council committee who voted for the changes were: Aldermen Warren, Nutting and Sprattling, and Councilmen Wardlaw, Thomson and Mason.

Councilman Smith, who was in the chair, was with the minority. The member who was absent was Alderman VanVleet.

It was stated on the floor of council by Alderman McClelland that there was nothing but politics behind the whole scheme. Afterwards, before the special committee, Mr. McClelland poured out some red hot shot.

Was Caught Napping.

A remarkable feature of the whole matter was that it leaked out that a majority of the members of council did not know that there was a new city charter amendment striking out a provision for the election of a chief of construction by letting anybody run, whether he had any sort of qualifications or not. It was stated that several members of council, after that body had adopted the amendment, tried to rectify matters by sending a petition to the legislature asking that a correction be made, but the belated petition was too late.

Another feature was that several members of council held a caucus Monday morning in the office of a "certain addressee" (that was all of the secret that was let out) and agreed upon a full program. That program went through without a hitch, save the hot shot from Alderman McClelland and the minority kick from Councilmen Hatcher and Sisson.

When Alderman Nutting appeared as a steering committee, Alderman McClelland began to ply him with questions about the caucus. Mr. Nutting admitted that there had been a "conference" and that certain matters had been agreed upon. He would not state who were at the meeting.

Says People Are Getting Tired. "Well," said Mr. McClelland, "the people will find out and I want to say right here and now that the people are getting mighty tired of these back-room caucuses and they will demand that their business be transacted out in the open."

Alderman Nutting introduced an ordinance and a resolution, the former making the changes in the office of chief of construction, as stated above, the latter calling for the appointment of a committee of ten, one from each ward, to make a report on the proposed changes. The committee of the whole reported to council that it had decided to recommend the passage of both ordinance and resolution.

The papers were adopted by council and the mayor pro tem. appointed the committee with Councilman Smith as chairman. The chairman wanted to call a meeting Wednesday afternoon, but he was prevailed upon to meet at once and the meeting was held in the mayor's office.

Just before council adjourned Alderman McClelland tried to find out who was responsible for the ordinance making the changes in the construction department, but he got little satisfaction.

"I just want to know the author," he remarked, "for when you know who gets up an ordinance you can pretty well tell what it means and what is behind it."

Will Fire the Expert.

When the special committee got together there began a discussion of Dr. Rudolph Hering, the sanitary expert. It was stated that he was drawing $250 a month for superintending the construction of the sewage disposal plants, and $50 a day when he came to Atlanta. It had to be admitted, however, that this contract was made by council two years ago and not by the construction department. It was agreed to "fire the expert" as soon as the first of the three plants is in operation.

The members of the committee each expressed his views, as follows: Alderman Warren: "I think we ought to have one head to the construction department. I believe that head should be a good business man and executive officer. But I do not believe we should do any thing to get rid of Captain Clayton, as his services are too valuable to the city."

Alderman Sprattling: "I also think the department should be under one head, and I also think the city should not lose the valuable services of Captain Clayton."

Councilman Wardlaw: "I have not looked into the matter, and would prefer that others who are present express their views."

Councilman Thomson: "We should go slow, for politics may get into the matter, and we might be in a worse fix than we are now. I think there should be only one head to the construction department, and that the candidate for that office should not be an engineer."

Councilman Mason: "I hope that Captain Clayton will agree to accept a new office to be called the consulting engineer. If he will, council can create the position, and we will all vote for him."

Opposed to Any Change. Councilman Hatcher: "I am against any sort of change in the construction

ATLANTA LEADS IN FINE HORSES

McCullough's Entries in Asheville Show Take Many Ribbons and Cups.

Nym McCullough, well-known local fancier of fine horses, brought back a great collection of ribbons and cups when he returned from Asheville, N. C., where he entered "Trial Balance," a gaited Kentucky saddle horse, and "Aurora," a combination mare.

At Asheville "Trial Balance" won the blue in two saddle and two harness classes, while "Aurora" took the blue in the combination harness and saddle class, and in the ladies' driving class, with Miss Helen McCullough handling the reins. At Hendersonville "Trial Balance" was the champion in the three-gaited saddle class, and "Aurora" took the blue in the combination class. Altogether Mr. McCullough's entries took down six blues, two reds and a yellow, and two silver cups.

One of the best all round shows I ever attended," was Mr. McCullough's enthusiastic praise in speaking of the Asheville show. They are planning to make it even better next year, building a big coliseum near the Battery Park, and will put up $15,000 in prize money. It will be a great affair.

SMOKE NUISANCE WILL BE FOUGHT

Plan of Board of Inspectors Will Be Announced Tonight.

As the result of a thorough investigation by the board of smoke inspectors of the city, revealing the fact that practically every manufacturer in town is violating the smoke ordinance, a joint meeting of the board and all others interested in eliminating the smoke nuisance in Atlanta will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the council chamber at the city hall.

All manufacturers are particularly urged to be present in order that their co-operation may be enlisted in the plan of campaign which has been mapped out by the board.

For months the board has been collecting data from all the larger cities as to how the problem has been handled and from this data has formulated a plan of warfare against the nuisance in Atlanta. This plan will be laid before the public at tonight's meeting.

Secretary Meyer Ill.

New York, August 26.—Secretary of the Navy George Von L. Meyer was reported tonight to be ill, on the dispatching of a ship on the way from New York to Newport. The secretary, arrived at the Brooklyn navy yard on the Dolphin yesterday, planning it is understood, to visit the yard today. Word was sent ashore from the Dolphin during the day, however, that Mr. Meyer was not in good health, and had given up the idea of going ashore. The Dolphin sailed late in the afternoon for Newport.

department. Neither the chief nor his assistants have had a fair show. The department has been organized only two years, and it has done most excellent work, despite the bad weather. Captain Clayton is a most efficient officer, and I do not think he can be improved upon. I think it folly to let any person offer for the position. If we do, then you may see your own called business man and shrewd politician get the office, and then where will you be?

Councilman Sisson: "I heartily agree with Mr. Hatcher. We do not want any change. We have a good department, and it has done most excellent work, despite the bad weather. Captain Clayton is a most efficient officer, and I do not think he can be improved upon. I think it folly to let any person offer for the position. If we do, then you may see your own called business man and shrewd politician get the office, and then where will you be?"

Councilman Smith: "It is the city's lack of money that is the whole cause of the trouble. It is unjust to criticize the construction department."

Captain Clayton, who had been sent for, was asked to give his views. "I am a plain, blunt man," he said, "and if I say aught to wound anybody's feelings I will not mean it that way. In the first place, the proposition to let a man be at the head of the construction of this great city who is not a civil engineer is absurdly gone moonstruck. The present system is good and in my opinion no change is needed."

Captain Clayton then submitted a report of the weather from October of last year to the first of August of this year. There were hard rains as follows: In October 8 days, in November 11 days, in December 13 days, in January 12, February 12, March 12, April 13, July 18, making a total of rainy days of 121 out of 365. The report further showed that the rainfall during the time named was 60.37 inches, when the normal rainfall should be 41.48 inches, an excess of 18.89 inches.

These figures were given to show how the construction department had been hampered by wet weather.

High Tribute to Captain Clayton.

Alderman McClelland was asked to express his views. He began by paying a high tribute to Captain Clayton. "You know there is politics behind this whole movement," he said. "First, you tried to shelve Captain Clayton by talking about a pension. You know the good man wouldn't be pensioned. Next you start this movement to divide up his office so he can't be in control of it. Then you want to get him to take an office called consulting engineer. All the time you are getting your hooks on the politician you want to fill the office, and in order to carry out the program you let down the bars so anybody can run whether he knows anything about sewer work, street work or engineering work. Who is the man who has heard this afternoon that Marcellus Anderson might get in the running. Well, the people of this good city will not stand for it. They won't let you make Captain Clayton the goat. He is a good, pure man and a noble Christian, a first-class engineer, and a man who knows all about his business, and he does the full measure of his duty."

Councilman Chambers next spoke by invitation. He took the position that while Captain Clayton had been efficient and faithful, some change might not only be beneficial to the city, but also to Captain Clayton. He said he thought there should be only one head to the construction department with competent assistants.

When it came to the voting, all the members of the committee except Councilman Hatcher, Sisson and Smith favored the proposed change in the organization of the construction department.

Under the report which the committee will make to council the changes from the present system will be as follows: "First, anybody can run for the office of chief of construction, whether he is qualified as an engineer or not; second, the chief of construction will appoint two assistant chiefs for sewers and streets, subject to the confirmation of council; third, the chief shall be amenable to the city council; fourth, it may be recommended that the office of consulting engineer be created."

The committee may hold another session before council meets next Tuesday.

MARIETTA READY FOR BIG REUNION

Two Days' Entertainment Will Be Elaborate.

More Than 2,000 Veterans and Visitors Expected—Program Best Ever Arranged for State Reunion—Big Parade Thursday Afternoon.

Marietta, Ga., August 26.—(Special.) This city is ready for the confederate reunion which will begin on next Wednesday.

It is expected that there will be more people here than there has ever been in the history of Marietta.

The auditorium and courthouse are being placed in first-class condition, and entertainments will be held at both of these places almost continuously. There will be concerts in the city park day and night. Three bands have been engaged for the occasion, the Gem City band, Woodstock Concert band and Hapeville Concert band, and it now looks as if there will be something doing in the way of music all the time.

There are many attractive features in the program and Marietta will have more prominent visitors than at any time in its history.

The Macon Drum corps with a delegation of one hundred has signified their intention of being present, together with two troops of Boy Scouts with their drum corps from Atlanta.

The contract for decorations has been made with the Southern Decorating company, of Atlanta, and the material is already on hand. The work began Thursday and will be completed as rapidly as possible.

DESERTED BRIDE ON WEDDING DAY

Mrs. Hurst Finds Husband, Who Told Police He Was Crazy, by Constitution Story.

After making a four days' search of Atlanta for her missing husband, J. A. Hurst, of Social Circle, who disappeared Thursday afternoon, only a few hours after they had married, Miss Louise Roberson, a young girl of East Atlanta, read a story in Monday morning's Constitution to the effect that Hurst had appealed to the police to arrest him on the charge of insanity, and that he was detained at police headquarters pending an investigation into his mental condition.

The bride rushed to police station, where she found her husband pacing up and down the runway beside a tier of cells in the prison. He talked incessantly of the mental torture he was suffering from a mythical decree of divorce granted his wife, and was pleading with the prisoners for an examination by an alienist. She consulted police authorities and agreed with them that the bride should be removed to his home in Griffin, and there be treated for derangement. He will be taken to Griffin some time today.

Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock Hurst and Miss Roberson were married at the residence of Rev. Virgil Norcross, and the ceremony was witnessed by scores of friends and relatives of both the bride and groom. Leaving the large wedding party, the bride and groom came upon a trolley car. At the corner of Broad and Marietta street Hurst placed his wife aboard another car and sent her to the home of her sister in East Atlanta, with the assurance that he would return before nightfall.

Four hours later he accosted Policeman Hardy, near Five Points, and asked that he be taken in custody, saying he was demented, and that it would be dangerous for the public and himself for him to run at large. Hurst's bride has notified his father, J. L. Hurst, who resides near Social Circle, and he will arrive in Atlanta today to escort his son to Griffin.

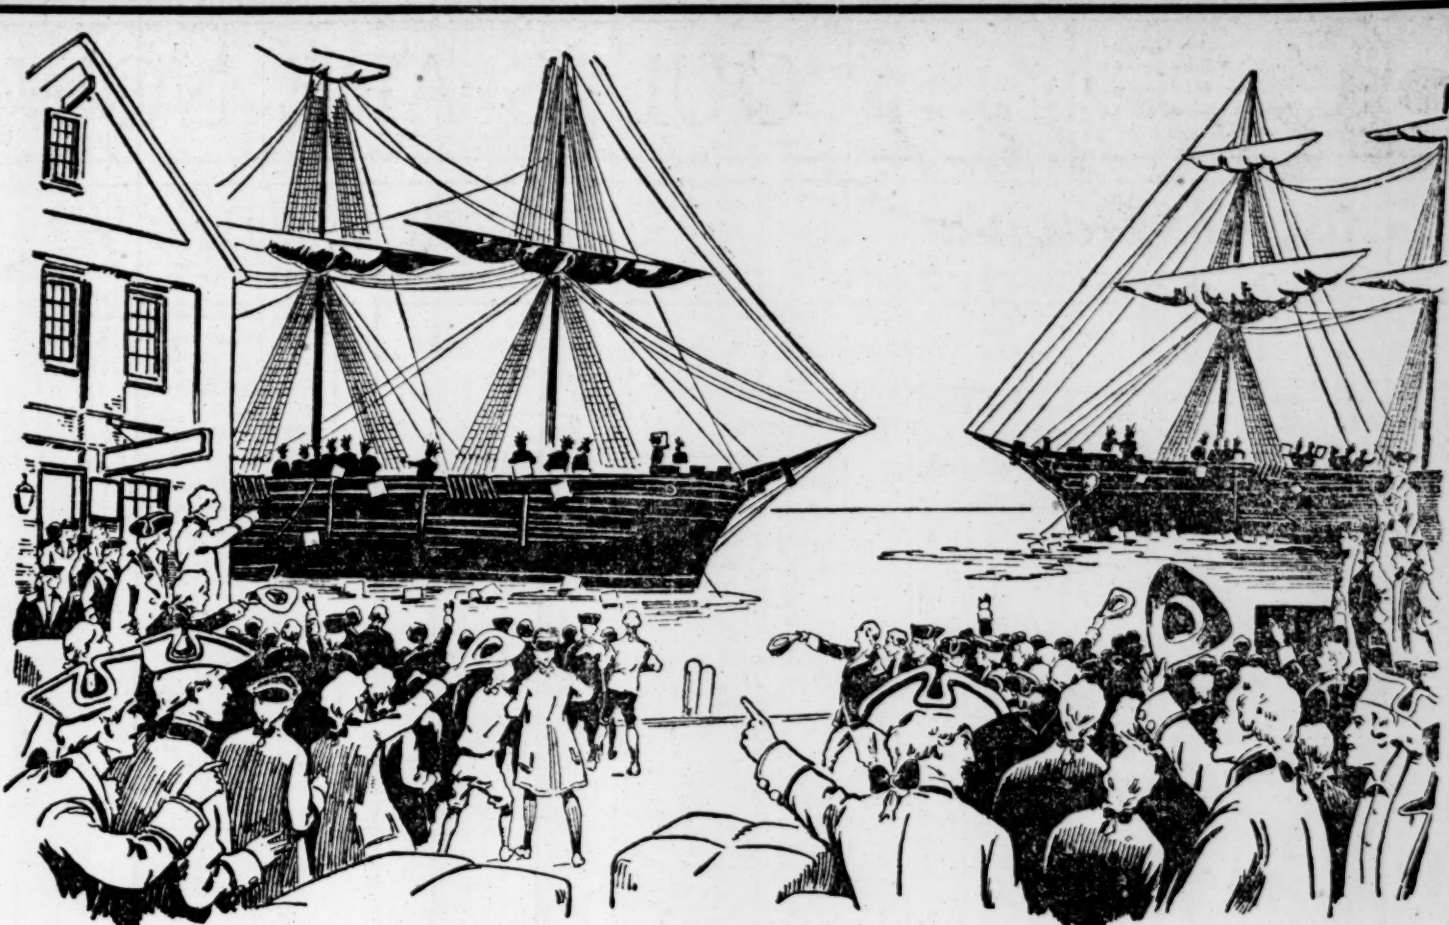

ROOSEVELT WILL STOP IN ATLANTA

Declines an Invitation to LaGrange, Saying He Will Speak Here.

LaGrange, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—By request of a number of admirers of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Secretary L. S. Busch, of the chamber of commerce, wrote the colonel inviting him to stop at LaGrange and speak to the citizens during his trip south. Monday morning the following letter was received from George Emelen Roosevelt, relative of the ex-president, who is in charge of the speaking campaigns of Colonel Roosevelt: "Colonel Roosevelt's speaking trip is being arranged at these offices and your kind invitation has been referred to me. In the tremendous amount of territory to be covered you can see that it is impossible to arrange the speeches so as to satisfy every one and it is most necessary not to work Colonel Roosevelt beyond his capacity. It is not a physical possibility to cover the entire country and make more than one speech in a state, with the possible exception of some of the very large states, such as New York and Pennsylvania, and I believe that the speech in Georgia will be made at Atlanta. I know that Colonel Roosevelt would be reluctant to stop at LaGrange if it were possible, but I hope I have made clear to you the situation in which he is placed. Sincerely yours, (Signed) GEORGE EMELAN ROOSEVELT."

A wire later received stated that if Colonel Roosevelt came through on the Atlanta and West Point railroad, that an effort would be made to have the train stop here a few minutes to give him an opportunity to speak to the citizens of LaGrange and Troup county.

Taft Signs Deficiency Bill. Washington, August 26.—President Taft, at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, signed the general deficiency appropriation bill.

December 16, 1773

A little affair occurred in New England that went down in history as

The Boston Tea Party

"There's a Reason"

An English King had told his subject colonists that if they drank tea they must pay a tax on it—an unjust tax that made revenue, not for Americans but for Englishmen.

It was a tax that increased the high cost of living of those days—and our forefathers went to the wharf where the tea ships were moored, split open the tea chests and spilled their contents into Boston Harbor, thus producing the largest and most expensive bowl of tea the world has ever seen.

Today

Is repeated practically the same thing.

The Brazilian Coffee Trust, operated by foreign money kings, working outside the control of our National Anti-trust laws, have imposed a tax upon American Citizens which has raised the price of even the cheapest grade of coffee from 15c to 25c per lb.

During three past years this trust has taken Hundreds of Millions of Dollars from the pockets of American Citizens.

It has given Brazil 85 Millions of Dollars with which to retire her National Bonds.

It has given Brazil 10 Millions of Dollars to pay interest on her bonds.

It has given Brazil a "bought and paid for" supply of coffee on hand worth 90 Millions of Dollars and—

It has paid millions upon millions of profit into the coffers of the Foreign Money Kings, and yet the coffee people report a falling off in sales of about 200 million pounds in the past two years.

Why this Heavy Reduction?

Until recently the ever increasing army of Postum users, thought only of health as a "reason" for quitting coffee. Now economy is another "reason." A third "reason," Improved Flavor, has come in with prepared instantly by placing a spoonful in a cup and pouring hot water over it.

This presents a delicious beverage much resembling high grade Java in color and taste, but absolutely pure and free from the coffee drug "caffeine" or any other harmful ingredient.

Health, convenience, flavor and economy have induced people to change from coffee to Postum, then follows better health, freedom from headache, indigestion, nervousness and other coffee ills.

The Result—

In hundreds of thousands of American homes today, coffee is forgotten and Postum has become the regular table beverage. It is an American drink made by Americans from American products.

A 100-cup tin Instant Postum, 50c, (equals 1-2c per cup), at Grocers. (Smaller tins at 30c.) Regular Postum, large package, (must be boiled 15 minutes), 25c.

"There's a Reason"

Coffee averages about double that cost.

5-cup free sample of Instant Postum sent for 2-cent stamp for postage.

GULLS ARE NOW CLOSING IN

(It Will Be a Very Sharp Ascent)

Gilly's

The Worst Ever.

THE TRIP that the Atlanta team is on at the present writing has proven the most disastrous trip an Atlanta team has ever taken. But two games have been played on the right side of the ledger, while those on the other side have been very numerous.

But One Fault.

THE PITCHING is the one thing that the string of defeats can be blamed on. King Brady pitched good ball on the trip and Veder Stitton hurled one grand game, but aside from this, the pitching was horrible. Even when the team got off to a four-run lead their pitchers were so weak that it was easy to overcome such lead. Especially was this true if Johnson and Waldorf happened to be pitching. We will not ten bucks right now that Billy Smith does not keep either of these men. Waldorf may have the natural stuff, though we have doubted it all along, but no matter what he has got, if he cannot win he will not be a member of William Andrew Smith's hurling corps.

After Record.

JOHNSTON, the fleet-footed center fielder of the Birmingham Barons, is not after the Southern league base-stealing mark. Through Sunday's games he has swiped seventy cushions. The league record is held by Diamond Joe Rickert, who stole seventy-seven. Exclusive of postponed games, the Barons have fifteen more scheduled games to play, so it looks reasonable to suppose that Johnson will be the new base-stealing king of the Southern league. He will have to steal only one base every other game to pass the record.

Started Again.

SCRIBES around the Southern league circuit have started their old stunt of picking an all-southern team. Here is one that we clip from the Nashville papers: First base, Schwartz, of Nashville; second base, Marcan, of Birmingham; third base, Perry, of Nashville; shortstop, Crandall, of Memphis; outfielders, Moran, of Chattanooga; Walchance, of Nashville; and Stengel, of Montgomery. Catchers, Elliott, of Nashville, and McAllister, of Montgomery; pitchers, Atchison, of Montgomery; Demaree, of Nashville; and Smith, of Birmingham; utility man, Carroll, of Birmingham. Exclusive of the pitchers, the utility man, Moran, and Crandall, we would choose an entirely different team. How many of them can leave such hitters as Wares, Almeida and McGilvray.

Back in Form.

GUY ZINN, former Turtle, who has been a New York regular all season, has been sent to the Rochester club by Manager Harry Wolverton. It is just a case of coming back to earth. Zinn was playing away above his natural stride all season and when he got back to normal, of course he was not good enough.

Is Peculiar.

GLANCING over the dates of the Tech football team for this season, a peculiar state of affairs is shown. The first three games on the calendar are played away from Atlanta. The next game that the Tech bunch will play in Atlanta will be on October 26 with Alabama. The clubs the Tech club has any note will be the Saturday previous when Vanderbilt ties up with Georgia at Ponce de Leon.

Next Monday.

THE END of the Sally league season is in sight. Next Monday will see the last of it. And with the present standing of the clubs, the finish should be a hectic one. Jacksonville is not out of the race yet and if she wins the second pennant there will be no need of a post-season series of games.

A Splendid Move.

WARDEN MOYER, of the United States penitentiary, must be congratulated if he pulls off the game Saturday between a team of the prison inmates and the soldiers from Fort McPherson. This is a humanitarian move and should bring about much good at the prison. If Moyer would arrange a game of this character for every Saturday and put the men on their good behavior, a violation of prison rules prohibiting the attendance at the games, the general good behavior at the prison would increase one hundred per cent. The attendance upon the game a reward for merit and the results would be twice as good.

Worth $50,000.

HUGH JENNINGS, manager of the Detroit team, is out with the statement that he values the Red Sox outfield as being worth $50,000 cash and if they were put on the market that this is what he would bid for them. Of course Speaker is considered as being worth half of that amount with Lewis and Hooper at $12,500 each. And their value will be the same for several years, says Jennings, as they are all young men.

Out for Season.

NEAL BALL, former Cracker, who was recently claimed by the Boston Red Sox from Cleveland, and will be out for the remainder of the season with a broken finger. Neal was substituting at second base for Yerkes, who

Vols Missed Connections; Crackers Loaf for the Day; Two Double-Headers Now

Nashville, Tenn., August 26.—(Special.)—The Volunteers of Bill Schurz missed their train connections from Mobile, where they played on Sunday, and the result the Atlanta Crackers were forced to sit around the Hermitage hotel in idleness all day.

TRIS SPEAKER GAINS ON COBB

Tris Speaker gained a point on Monday, when he got two hits in four times up, and but four points separate him and Cobb.

Cobb got only one hit in three times up, while Jackson got but one in five, both dropped a point.

Rockmart Wins.

Rockmart, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—Rockmart defeated Aragon in one of the fastest games of ball played here yet, by 5 to 1. The score stood 1 to 0 until Young, of Aragon, ascended and walked three with several bases and errors allowed four to cross before he could come down. It was just a case of two much Royal, who pitched for the locals, not giving up a hit and allowing but two past first base. Talbot, of Rockmart, also featured, getting two two-base hits and one single out of four times up. Rockmart would like to play any fast amateur team in and around Atlanta on local grounds. City league preferred.

was ill. But Yerkes is ready to return to the game now and the Red Sox will not suffer much from Neal's injury.

A double-header has already been announced for Tuesday and the result of today's proceedings makes a double-header necessary for Wednesday.

Brady and Stitt will probably hurl the two games for Atlanta, with Fleharty and Blair for the Vols.

CALLAWAY IN THE RACE FROM THE TENTH WARD

A. W. Callaway, a well-known business man of the tenth ward, living at 223 Street avenue, is receiving much encouragement in his race for councilman from that ward. Through an oversight, Mr. Callaway's name was omitted from the list of announced candidates published in The Constitution on Sunday morning. He is in the race to stay, he says, and from the favorable reports received from his friends he is satisfied that he stands an excellent show for election.

San Francisco, August 26.—Grover Hayes, lightweight, of Columbus, Ohio, will sail from here tomorrow for Australia, where he is scheduled for five flights of twenty rounds each. Hayes will fight Hughey Wehagan, Jack Carroll and Jack Russell.

Will Revive Boxing Sport On Labor Day

The boxing game locally is to be revived. This announcement is not exactly official, but it is talked around town that the Gate City Athletic club will resume business on Labor day.

They plan to stage their first bout on the date mentioned, and have got their main bout already lined up after dicker with men all over the country, all of whom had dates for Labor day.

But the card that they are arranging should be a good one to reopen the game locally. The only questionable part of the reopening is the place where the bouts will be held.

Frank Whitney, the Cedar Rapids carpenter, who is to fight with local boxing fans, will be one of the principals, and the local fans are sure of getting a run for their money when he is in the ring.

Walter Little, the Chicago lightweight, who has been boxing for some time, and is a grand little boxer when in shape, has been working faithfully for the past three months, and is now in the best condition of his career. He is going to be the man that the club will stack up against Whitney.

Good preliminaries will also be arranged for the opening show.

POST-SEASON SERIES ASKED BY ANDERSON

Anderson, S. C., August 26.—President Furman Smith, of the Anderson Baseball association, winner of the pennant in the Carolina league this year, tonight addressed telegrams to President Boatwright, of the Virginia league, and President Corish, of the South Atlantic league, asking for post-season series with the pennant winners of the Carolina and South Atlantic leagues respectively. It is likely that the overtures will be accepted and that the games will be played on the diamonds of the winners of the two leagues challenged.

MAURICE M'LOUGHLIN IS TENNIS CHAMPION

Newport, R. I., August 26.—California's sweep of the lawn tennis honors of the country was completed today when Maurice E. McLaughlin, of San Francisco, won the championship in singles from Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia, in 3 out of 5 sets. The scores were: 3-6, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2. McLaughlin holds the championship in doubles, with Thomas C. Brady, of Los Angeles. Miss Mary Browne, of San Francisco, who saw the finals throughout, is the national women's title holder.

McLaughlin was a 3 to 1 favorite when the players came onto the court, but after the first few games Johnson got his low chop stroke working in excellent shape and for two sets the Californian was unable to handle it.

At one time Johnson was within two games of the championship. McLaughlin, however, pulled himself together and fathoming the mysteries of the Philadelphia's low cut stroke smashed the balls across the court and squared the match. After that Johnson tired rapidly and McLaughlin had no difficulty in clinching the contest and the championship.

This is the first year that the tennis titles have gone to the Pacific coast.

MACON MEET ON THIS WEEK

Macon, Ga., August 26.—(Special.)—The Macon convention meet—one of the biggest racing meets Georgia has known in recent years—will be held in Macon Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, and several thousand dollars' worth of horse flesh will participate. The entry list was closed today, and all that is now needed to insure the success of the undertaking is fair weather.

The entry list shows thirty high-bred horses, more than have ever been on any track outside of the grand circuit. Alex Wisner, of Columbus, who has the reputation of sending more horses to the grand circuit from Georgia than any other man in the state, arrived today with a good string of racers. Hawkinsville is represented by a quartet of good horses, piloted by Morgan Thompson, and Cochran has sent a couple of pacers just to show what sort of stuff this little county on the map. From north Georgia come aspirants from Cartersville and Athens, and a couple of others have been recruited from Atlanta. Eatonton folks have several entries, and word has been received that a delegation of 200 will come along to back their favorites.

Macon is furnishing some good horses, fully a dozen of them, owned by Dan O'Connell, M. J. Moran, Phil Lane, George S. Riley, Jr., and Dr. J. A. Warfield. Dan O'Connell's Nellie Gentry, will go against the entries from the Wisner stables for the championship of Georgia. She will be driven by M. J. Moran.

A special invitation will be extended to the delegates to the state democratic convention to attend the races, and special seats will be reserved for them.

It is the purpose of the horsemen here, if the interest justifies, to bring some of the best-known horses in the country here, for they intend to be in training here during the winter months.

AGRICULTURE IN CONGRESS; EXPERIMENTS IN BEE KEEPING

By Guy E. Mitchell.

Washington, August 26.—(Special.)—Representative Carlin, of Virginia, during the dying days of the present session of congress introduced a bill contemplating a great system of highways passing through Washington. This bill, which is drawn in accordance with the plan suggested by General Floyd King, former member of the house from Louisiana, calls for the appointment of a committee to care for this national highway system and provides $1,000,000 for the necessary surveys and plans.

The highways will run from Washington to Portland, Me., Niagara Falls, N. Y., Seattle, Wash., San Francisco, Los Angeles, Austin, Texas, and Miami, Fla. It is estimated that the cost of these 12,000 miles of highway will be about one-quarter the cost of the Panama canal.

In this connection an item of interest was that embodied in the post-office appropriation bill providing an appropriation of $500,000 for experimental road construction, with a committee to study the proposition.

Pure Drugs.

In order to make more drastic the pure food and drugs act as applied to patent and proprietary medicines, the house of representatives passed a bill introduced by Representative Sherley, of Kentucky. This bill would prohibit, under a heavy penalty, the publishing of claims for "cure-alls" that cannot be substantiated by scientific fact. While this measure will not in any way affect medicines which have a legitimate claim for efficiency, the widely advertised nostrums which are foisted on unsuspecting and long suffering buyers will be practically wiped out of existence.

With Enforceable Quarantine.

Officials of the bureau of entomology and of the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture are now busy making plans for the enforcement of a part of the national plant quarantine law just passed by congress. The bulk of the provisions of this quarantine law will not be enforced until the first of October, but provision is made for the immediate enforcement of the restriction against the importation of plants liable to harbor the Mediterranean fruit fly. This will affect the importation of orange and lemon stock from the Mediterranean region.

Comb Honey.

The department of agriculture experiments to issue within a couple of weeks a new farmers' bulletin, No. 503, on "Comb Honey," by George S. Demuth, apicultural assistant in the bureau of entomology.

The increasing demand for the finest grades of comb honey and of a decrease in the amount of comb honey produced, says Dr. L. C. Howard, chief of the bureau, "it seems timely to present to professional beekeepers an analysis of the best practice as well as to point out the essentials to the production of maximum crops of the best grades."

The present tendency in beekeeping, says Mr. Demuth, in the new bulletin, is decidedly toward the production of extracted honey rather than of comb honey. Enormous quantities of honey are now used for manufacturing purposes and this demand is, of course, solely for extracted honey. If the general public finally becomes convinced of the purity and wholesomeness of extracted honey, it will become a staple article of food. Comb honey to command the higher price—proportionate to the greater cost of production—must justify the extra cost to the consumer by its finer appearance. By virtue of its appearance there will probably always be a good demand for the finest grade of comb honey whose appearance is the chief consideration.

Comb honey production should not be attempted in localities where the honey flow is very slow or intermittent, which character of the honey is such that it granulates quickly in the comb while it is on the market, where the honey is dark or "off-color," or where honeys from various sources are mixed if these different sources produce honey of different colors and flavors. The beekeeper who produces comb honey for the general market should first be sure that his is a comb honey locality. Even in the best localities during an occasional season, conditions are such that it is not possible to produce comb honey of fine appearance. Some comb honey specialists find it profitable to provide an equipment for extracted honey for such an emergency, when cases of comb honey are produced only during the height of the season, when conditions are most favorable, extracting supers being used both at the beginning and close of the honey flow.

Well-filled, well-appearing honey with delicate white comb and perfect cappings are obtainable only during a rapid flow of sufficient duration to insure their completion. The production of comb honey, the appearance of which is sufficient to justify the extra cost, requires a combination of conditions that are peculiar to rather limited areas, outside of which the beekeeper will find it decidedly advantageous to produce extracted honey.

The bulletin contains a brief outline of modern apparatus and methods, but Mr. Demuth wishes it understood that the plans given are not supposed to take the place of the broad experience necessary in profitable comb honey production, since it is assumed that the reader of the bulletin is more or less familiar with the general phases of beekeeping. The new bulletin describes the apparatus used for comb honey production, the manipulation of the bees and caring for the crop from its removal from the hive to placing it on the market. The bulletin also contains two illustrations as aids to a proper understanding of the text. Application for Farmers' Bulletin 503 should be held for a couple of weeks until publication, after which the bulletin may be obtained free from the department of agriculture or upon application to your member of congress.

It Tells the Story.

Many an exhibit at the county fair tells a silent story of the man who followed modern methods of farming and of the man who farmed just like his father and his father's father.

Bedbugs at 5 Cents Each.

The housewife continues her relentless war against the bedbug. The department of agriculture bends its knee before Cimex lectularius and sings its praises. Why this most hated of insects should be popular with officials of the department may be readily explained.

At Lewis, Va., near the experimental farm, the bedbug has been held at the railroad station recently.

Will pay 5 cents for each bedbug up to $5 worth. G. M. Zimmer, superintendent.

Mr. Zimmer's explanation easily clears the mystery of this experimental farm are several acres of old orchard where various kinds of bedbugs preyed on the trees before the government bought the place. The warfare waged against them by the use of insecticides, and the bedbug will prey on the other bugs and will not hurt vegetation, and hence the call for help.

Good Substitutes for Meat.

"If beef is too expensive," says Dr. R. E. Doolittle, acting chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, "beans are the best substitute for beef. One should not eat meat anyway, more than once daily, depending on the physical condition and employment of the person. Hard workers need meat, but those in sedentary work. It seems to me the harder a man works and the lower his wages, the more meat he needs. Meat contains a great amount of protein. Protein is the muscle-forming element of food.

"But beans are high in protein percentage. Not canned beans, but baked beans are the best. Canned vegetables of all kinds are not as good as fresh. Other good substitutes for meat, of high protein content, are peas, all kinds of nuts, and milk.

"While I am not advocating a strict vegetarian diet as the only and best course to pursue, I am in favor of the substitution of some vegetables for meat. Sugar, too, is healthful. Oatmeal contains some fat, but quick-cooked foods, generally, are merely starchy. If fish cannot be considered meat, I would recommend them as a meat substitute, but as a rule, fish prices follow those of meat.

"After all, beans and peas are the best of all foods, unless you are a vegetarian. If you feel like it and your pocketbook can afford it, eat meat not more than once a day."

Tests With Legumes.

A report from the Ohio experiment station of some tests with soy beans and cowpeas was recently received by the office of experiment stations of the department of agriculture.

As a result of these experiments it was found that seeding soy beans at the rate of three pecks per acre produced higher total and higher grain yields than seeding at the rate of 1, 2 or 4 pecks per acre in rows 28 inches apart. Seeding at the rate of 3 pecks per acre in rows 8 inches apart produced a still higher forage yield, but the difference was insignificant to pay for the extra seed used. The forage was more satisfactory because of the greater amount of stems and leaves. The soy beans also gave the highest grain yield in a farmers' co-operative test.

During the three years 1909-1911, ten varieties of soy beans produced average total yields of 3,523 pounds and grain yields of 2,422 bushels of grain per acre, while in the same period three cowpea varieties produced total yields ranging from 2,150 to 2,680 pounds, and grain yields ranging from 444 to 794 bushels per acre.

GEORGIA, MERIWETHER COUNTY.—Personally appeared before me H. W. Hill, who, being duly sworn, says that, as a Candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Georgia, he expended the sum of fifty ($50.00) dollars as the entrance fee required by the Georgia Constitution to be qualified to take the primary election on the 21st day of August, 1912, and that said amount was derived from his own funds, and was the only amount expended by him. Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 24th day of August, 1912.

Passmore, one of the defeated candidates for ordinary in the primary last Wednesday, has asked for a recount of the votes cast in the Valdosta district, but he waited too long to make the demand and Chairman Woodward has declined to grant his request. Under the rules governing the primary, any candidate who was dissatisfied with the result and desired to contest the election was required to file notice in writing with the executive committee on the day after the election. Mr. Passmore waited three days and under the rules is barred from a contest.

Marchman received the first bale last year on August 9. Cotton is opening slowly this year, but a good deal will be gathered during the coming week.
